George Lardner or if out of town, National Desk
Washington Post
1150 15 St., NW
Washongton, D.C. 20005

10/5/84

Dear George,

The ambiguous language in the story on the FBI agent as accused Russian spy, referring to a counterintelligencemanual as of questionable value, reminded me that the FBI has disclosed at least one under FOIA.

The whole thing seems to be so unreal, so unprofessional, I've made and enclose copies of the covering letter with which a copy was forwarded to Jim Lesar after prior disclosure and of the title page, the cover not being suitable for clear copying.

Happy Hunting,

Harold Weisberg